Subject: Microsoft Settlement

As a consumer of Microsoft products, and one who was supposed to have been "damaged" by the business practices of Microsoft, alleged by their competitors, I must tell you that this action has dragged on for much too long. It seems to me that the Settlement reached and agreed to by all parties should be the end of it. The economy cannot stand any more of the never-ending litigation which has been the real cause of damage to me as a consumer and stockholder of Microsoft.
